

The FitBuddy project uses a highly modular layout.

FastAPI handles backend routing in `routes.py`, SQLAlchemy manages schemas in `database.py`, and Jinja2 handles frontend HTML templates.

This modular architecture ensures high readability and code reusability.